LADIES' FALL WRAPS!

The first consideration with every lady purchasing so important an article as an over-garment, is to get the correct style and a becoming fit. The true artist in all walks of life takes pride in doing his work faithfully and completely. This principle is carefully observed in our house, and every lady buying a Wrap from us can feel satisfied that she has the right thing. The choicest Cloaks and Wraps are imported in limited quantities, and our best styles cannot be duplicated this season. As in all other departments throughout our Palatial Emporium, we guarantee prices as low as the lowest.

Points About Two More Branch Road Which Would Greatly Benefit

To the Editors of the Appeal:

"In your daily issue of about two weeks ago, there was a statement to the effect that a surveying party of the Illinois Central railroad were encamped at Horn Lake, awaiting the return of their chief, who, on his return, would, in all probability, begin the survey of a railroad from Mewphis to Yazoo City. This place would be on the line of this road, and the article referred to created the most intense excitement here and hereabouts, the people in town and sorrounding country being very anxious that said road should be built. Since the time mentioned, however, nothing has been published by you relative thereto, and the object of this communication is to ask you to give us, through the medium you to give us, through the mediur your columns, further information os s subject. Will you kindly do so?"

This subject. Will you kindly do so?"

ANSWER.

The survey of the line is being made as rapidly as possible, and it is the opinion of leading railroad men in this city that the road will be pushed through to completion at once. President Clarke, of the Illinois Central, realising the necessity for a Memphis connection, was anxious to buy the McComb interest in the Mississippi and Tennessee, which controls that road, some time ago, but was voted down by his directory. They have come to their senses at last, and it is rumored that Mr. R. T. Wilson, who became the purchaser of the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, has been offered $500,000 for it by the Illinois Central Company, but that Mr. Wilson has refused to sell, knowing that the Illinois Central would at once become a formidable competitor of the Mississippi Valley. It is also declared by those inimical to the new enterprise that the survey of the line is merely a bluff to force Mr. Wilson or the creditors of the Selma to come to terms. The fact is, however, that negotiations with both the short lines named have ceased, and the branch, if built, would make the row road the shortest by fifty miles from Memphis to New Orleans.

to the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the new Gulf branch to Kansas City and the White River branch to Little Rock, Springfield will be the great railroad center of the Southwest. Who can estimate the picture of our city with these iron arms of commerce reaching out in all discretizes?"

Talk about the thirty-sixth parallel railroad is being revived. A survey has been made from Fayetteville, in Washington county, in the northeast corner of Arkanaas, to Cache river, and the intention is to run it across the Mississippi river so as to tap the Chesapeake and Ohio road at Covington, West Tennessee. If the road could run through Jonesboro it would go across Buffalo Island, which would open up a country that is now cut off by the St. Francis river from all transportation except during the winter soasou, superior in soil, timber, etc., to any portion of the State. It is asserted that this road will certainly be built, and Jonesboro stands a good chance to get it if the people will work for it.

Sometimes they are two or three days behind time. Miss a mail or two and then all come together. The Little Rock Democrat of the 2d reached here on the 6th. The APPRAL will come two or three mails regular and then miss entirely for two or three issues. Why is this?" This is respectfully referred to Mr. Postmaster Smith, of this city, for answer.

—The Tennessee Conference of the A large audience assembled at the Exposition building last night to hear the joint debate between the Democratic and Republican electors for the State at large. Both speeches were well delivered, that of Mr. Taylor especially arousing the most intense interest in the large audience, among which were hundreds of the ablest men of the city. Mr. Taylor speaks in an earnest manner, his words carrying conviction with them. He possesses a sonorous voice, and many of his flights are superb. —The Tennessee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, colored, met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in Centenary church, on Short Third street, in this city, Bishop Thomas Bowman, D. God, has been defeated. The Democratic platform of 1856 says the time has come to prepare for progressive free-trade all over the world. If Democratic principles will live forever tell me when you swapped off the platform of 1856 for that of 1884. In 1880 the Democrats declared in favor of tariff for revenue only. The difference between this and the protective tariff is that one is a tax to run the government of the United States, and the other to protect the labor interests of this country. The Democrats have heard it proclaimed by their leaders that the doctrine of protection is an infamous one. This question REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

their leaders that the doctrine of protection is an infamous one. This question was the great issue between the Democrats and the Whigs. In 1877 Mr. Mills introduced a resolution looking to a tariff for revenue only without reregard to protection. A short time ago the State Convention at Nashville, through its able chairman, announced that a tariff would be laid upon articles of luxury, putting tea and coffee first. And after that convention he was chosen to preach pure Democracy to the people of the State. I judge the party not by its platform, but by its action. This question is not one of theory, but of experience. The second act of Congress, passed in 1879, was a protective act. We had a protective tariff several times and a tariff for revenue only several times. Under the protective tariff it was insisted that too much money was poured into the Treasury. But when it was repealed manufactories began to close and the people of the United States became daily poorer. When the slaves were freed the necessity for a tariff for revenue, so far as the South was concerned, was gone. The credit of the country was destroyed and a President of the United States went into Wall street, among the bulls and tariff several times and a tariff for revenue only several times.
